GENERAL GORGAS

Former Surgeon General of the United States.—Was Unconscious Much of the Time the Last Few Days; Victim of Brights Disease.

General of the United States army, died at an early hour this morning.

General Gorgas' death was peaceful.

He was unconscious much of the time for the last few days, according to the hospital attendants, and was not even able to recognize Mrs. Gorgas nor Brigadier General Noble, the only person at the end.

Colonel Kennedy, medical consultant at the hospital, was in constant waiting on General Gorgas, and every facility was afforded by the British military authorities for proper medical attention.

It was stated by General Noble that Bright's disease (nephritis) was the immediate cause of death.

Virtually from the middle of June his body was abandoned for the rain.

from New York on May 19, seemingly in vigorous health. The following day he left with General Noble and Mrs. Gorgas for Brussels, where he was decorated by King Albert. From Brussels he proceeded to Coblenz, and returned to London on May 29.

On the morning of May 30 he suffered a stroke of apoplexy, and was removed to Queen Alexandra hospital, where his death occurred. For a time there was hope of his recovery, but kidney complications developed.

The body will be removed to the United States on board an American transport; the time of sailing, however, has not yet been announced.

YOUTH'S EDUCATION SADLY NEGLECTED

States Backward in Child Labor and Education Laws Give Legal Right to Remain Ignorant.

The legal right to remain ignorant is annually granted to thousands of children in states where child labor and education laws are lax.

According to an account of the administration of the federal child labor law soon to be published by the children's bureau of the United States department of labor, only 783 children out of 12,696 to whom certificates were issued, or less than 4

In addition to lax school attendance laws, three of the five states permit children 11 years old and permit children 14 years old and younger to go to work even if they can not read or write or have never been to school. Two require only that the child applying for work shall have gone to school for a brief period during the preceding year. Among the other states in the United States 23 require the completion of a specified grade, and 12 more and the District of Columbia require the ability to read and write.

None of the five states where children were granted certificates make any provision for continuation schools in order to make up for defective education in childhood. Only 18 states in the United States have laws which make such provision. England, under the Fisher education act, which went into effect April 1, is rapidly establishing continuation schools through-

CALLED ITS LOANS.

Breaking Down Credit Break Down The Food Supply.

A business man of Florida, in a letter to the Manufacturers Record, enclosed a clipping referring to the failure of a bank in Kissimmee, Fla., that State due largely to the fact that cattleman who have been borrowing from the bank in order to carry their cattle have not been able to realize on their livestock a sufficient amount to meet their obligations compelled the bank to curtail credit and call their loans. Yet some people are rejoicing in the decline in the price of livestock, apparently incapable of understanding that a very real decline in the prices paid to farmers for foodstuff means less food for next year and the year after and for years to come, and at prices by the side of which present prices are seen small.

When the Federal Reserve Board undertook to breakdown the credit of the country in order to break down prices of farm products as well as all other things, it inaugurated a movement which could never have been brought about by any other means. It was the policy of the Federal Reserve Board to follow their campaign. They are like the politicians who have been clamoring against cold-storage products, but realizing that cold storage is the governor of the foodstuff supply, and that if a vast amount of food is not stored during the summer, there will be none to be had at any price during the winter.

Dr. Eugene H. Porter, the Commissioner of Food and Markets of New York, has recently issued an official warning, indicating a serious food shortage here, fall and winter, due to the small supplies now in cold storage. He calls attention to the fact that the amount of butter, eggs and frozen meats now in cold storage is very much less than at the same time last year, and adds: "About this time each year somebody becomes excited about the amount of sensation at the period of maximum food held in storage. This annual storage should this year be changed to genuine concern for our food supply during the winter months." This said Dr. Porter, is the season when eggs and other products of all kinds should be put away in cold storage to meet the winter conditions when these things cannot be produced.

"This shortage," continued Dr. Porter, "is due to several causes. One is the decline of production resulting from the farm labor situation; another comes from transportation difficulties and from the limitation of the Federal Reserve Board's loan money on cold-storage holdings."

In the effort to break down prices of foodstuffs, the Federal Reserve Board will doubtless succeed in breaking down the supply instead of increasing foodstuffs and next winter and the winter following the country will be eagerly scrambling for food the supply of which will be exceeding short, due in part to the work of the Federal Reserve Board in deflating credit.—Manufacturers Record.

BETTER BABY CONFERENCE.

In every baby in Chester County as fat and rosy, as well and happy as a piglet to be and "run let." Does every mother in the county know how much the baby should weigh and measure? Is every baby in our town and country fed so as to insure making strong muscles, good red blood and sound teeth? Has every little one the most comfortable and healthful clothing and sleeping arrangements possible? These and a host of other questions relating to the baby's welfare will be discussed and answered at the Better Baby conference to be held in Chester on July 13th and at various places in the county on succeeding dates.

The Doctors and the Public Health Nurses have arranged these conferences believing that nothing could be of greater general interest or of more benefit to the community.

Exhibits of experiment will be made—nursing bottles, methods of preparing food, scales, sleeping bassinets, bath tubs, toy trains, home-made boxes and other things for the comfort and pleasure of the baby. Let every mother bring her baby and have him examined and expert advice given. Let us have a good time and a helpful time with the little ones from the youngest infant up to ten years of age.

The conference in Chester will be held at the Court House, July 13th from 10 A. M. to 4 P. M., and from 10 to 5 P. M. Similar conferences will be held at the following places: Springtine—July 4th, 10 to 12. Kings—July 5th, 10 to 12. Edgemoor—July 10th, 3:30 to 5:30 P. M. Armenia—July 16th, 3:30 to 5:30 P. M. STOMACH TROUBLE

Mr. Marion Holcomb of Nancy, Ky., says: "For quite a long while I suffered with stomach trouble. I would have pains and a heavy feeling after my meals, a most disagreeable taste in my mouth. I ate anything with a stomach trouble, I would spit it up. I began to have regular sick headache. I had used pills and tablets, but after a course of these, I would be constipated. It seemed to me that my stomach was all wrong. I found they were no good at all for my trouble. I heard

Blythe Brown Drowned.

A gloom of sadness was cast over Chester Monday afternoon when it became known that Blythe Brown, a young man only nineteen years of age, had been drowned in Broad river about noon on that day.

Young Brown, a party of friends, from Chester, accompanied by others from Armenia, left Chester early Monday morning for a day's outing on the river. It was while sailing that young Brown and four others stepped off in deep water and were forced to swim for their lives. The others managed to reach shore but young Brown sank within about ten feet of the bank after having battled bravely against the strong current.

Young Brown was a faithful and efficient employee in the grocery department of J. S. Wylie and Company, and although young in years he had many customers in Chester and throughout the county who sought him when making their purchases. Large or small, he being ever eager to serve. He was a promising young man and was very popular among the boys of Chester. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brown, who reside in the Polly Walker place owned by Mr. John Fraser. The parents have the heartfelt sympathy of a large circle of friends in the untimely death of their son.

The funeral services were held yesterday afternoon after which the interment was made at Armenia. A large concourse of sorrowing friends and relatives attended the funeral and from their last respects to this young man who was called away before he had even reached the prime of life.

BIG SALE DUROC HOGS.

Party to Attend Big Sale of Duroc Hogs in Union Tuesday, July 13th. County Agent Sanders Writing to Parties.

A party of Duroc Jersey breeders is being made up by County Agent Sanders to attend the big Sardin Farm sale of Duroc hogs, at Union, S. C., next Tuesday, July 12, where 45 head of the best Duroc bloodlines will be offered for sale at public auction.

Practically all of the offerings in this sale comes from the noted Orion Cherry King and Defender and anyone who knows anything about Durocs will at once see a splendid opportunity to visit this herd, which is so near as and perhaps be able to pick up a good gilt that should be in Chester County.

Orion Cherry King was the first National Grand Champion and was sold last year for $16,000.00. While we are not expecting to pay that much for a single hog, yet there are a few breeders in the county that should visit this sale and see what the old Mortgage Lifter is doing for other people and learn to appreciate the old hog more than we do.

We can leave Chester over the Seaboard at 9:25 A. M. for Union, via Fries, R. C., and returning reach Chester next Tuesday night. In time to get home for late supper. The fare will not be much, so get in touch with County Agent Sanders or meet the party next Tuesday night. You will never regret the trip.

All of the Duroc breeders and pig club members who are growing Durocs are being written to today by Mr. Sanders urging them to be in the party.

GO TO CLEMSON.

Leave Monday for Clemson College. Scholarships Are Offered in Each County. Race Horse Pig.

Robert Clowery, Blackstock, R. 2, G. Tom Jigon, Blenheim, R. 1, and William Campbell, of Lewis Turnout, will leave Monday, July 12th, over the Seaboard for Clemson College to attend the annual meeting and short course of the pig-breeding members from each of the counties in the State.

Two scholarships are offered in each county for the two boys making the best record with their corn and their pig, which includes all necessary expenses to and from the college as well as board and other expenses. The law firms of Glen and Riten and Marion and Marion offered one of these scholarships last year, which was won by Robert Clowery, the other one was offered by the Peoples National Bank and was won by G. T. Egan. Wm. Campbell will go as a pig student.

These club members are expecting to have a profitable trip attending the short course, seeing Clemson College and getting acquainted with each other. They will return July 23. There are many boys in the club who are trying to win these trips next year and hope to be the boys that will be in the club next year.

Several of the boys are settling along all right with their pigs and already there are many good pigs for sale that should be located in the county. Some of the boys are selling pigs in their counties already. The way to succeed is to raise pigs that are better than your neighbors, and they will want to buy them from you.

These club members are expecting to have a profitable trip attending the short course, seeing Clemson College and getting acquainted with each other. They will return July 23. There are many boys in the club who are trying to win these trips next year and hope to be the boys that will be in the club next year.

Nujol is particularly valuable for relieving constipation in children as well as in grown-ups, as it does not upset the stomach, cause diarrhoea or form a habit.

Nujol works on an entirely new principle.

Instead of forcing or irritating the system, it simply softens the food waste. This enables the many tiny muscles in the walls of the intestines, contracting and expanding in their normal way, to squeeze the food waste along so that it passes naturally out of the system.

Nujol thus prevents constipation because it helps Nature maintain easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world.

Nujol is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take. Try it.

Nujol is sold by all druggists in sealed bottles only, bearing Nujol Trade Mark. Write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 50 Broadway, New York, for booklet "Thirsty Feet of Danger".

PROSPERITY TO CUBA

Sugar has brought sudden and unexpected prosperity to Cuba, according to Pablo de la Lanza, president of the Banco Espanol, the oldest and most important banking institution in that island; and at present there is a poor class among the Cuban people. The Cubans, he says, have not become too prodigal with their new wealth, and a spirit of wise economy is being started. In an interview with a representative of the New York Commercial this Cuban banker says:

"The annual estimate of the sugar crop was made, six months ago, and economists of the world stood amazed at the extraordinary increase in the trade in favor of Cuba. At the time the sugar crop was estimated at 5,000,000 tons at from 7 to 8 cents per pound, and these estimates were considered as too optimistic. But the truth in this case went beyond the dreams of the most imaginative persons. When the world shortage of sugar occurred buyers were sent to Cuba from all European countries, even from Asia; the demand for this commodity started a rise in price which by leaps and bounds sent sugar to 10, 11, 12 and up to 18 cents per pound, there being cases lately when sugar has been sold as high as 20 cents per pound.

"If you take into consideration that this happened before the end of the grinding of the crop and that in Cuba everybody is interested in agriculture particularly sugarcane growing, you will realize what a blessing it has been for all the people. We have there some very big sugar estates owned by American companies, but the system of central distribution of the profits on equitable basis between the mill and the grower, which has been made in Cuba, thus the profit made in sugar benefits the whole population.

At present we may say that there is no poor class in Cuba, and the prosperity brought to this country by the sale of its main product is reflected everywhere. In the great number of houses being started all over the island. What this spirit means for the commercial and financial development of the country is something beyond the power of words to describe. It must be seen to be understood, and then it leaves a feeling of appalling wonder which is difficult to explain.

And the best symptoms of this unbounded prosperity is the generally held trend among the Cubans to invest the money earned in remunerative business. Although naturally inclined to enjoy all the good things of life, there is none of the thoughtless prodigality found in the newly rich. The things that in this country would be considered as luxuries, but when they do it you may be sure there is something substantial left behind to provide for the future.

The innumerable buildings being constructed everywhere and the many enterprises and industries established within the last six months are eloquent witnesses of the trend of thought in the island, where everybody is convinced that the only real source of wealth is honest work and is acting accordingly.

As a Spaniard I am proud of the record of Cuba as a hard-working nation. It is the best trait of our race which the Cubans have inherited, and the Spanish element of the island is the one co-operating with the natives in developing the resources of the country.

Value of a College Education

There was never a time when expert knowledge was so highly prized and so highly compensated.

High wages for untrained labor, will tempt many a young man to discount the value of a college education. But such an education, representing the work of four years, viewed merely as an investment of time and money, is equal in earning capacity to an estate of more than $50,000.

What estate comparable with this can the parent of average means hope to give or leave to his son? What young man can acquire that much value in the same time at any other business?

Education fits one for a life whose possibilities are limited only by his capacity and character. Eventually for the untrained there awaits the slavery of ignorant and undirected effort.

Clemson College brings within the reach of every young man in South Carolina the benefits and possibilities of a technical education. At Clemson College a boy from the humblest home in South Carolina can prepare himself for a high place in the service of his state and nation.

The Wonderful Soil Improver

Sow it in your corn and cotton at the last working, and next year you can plant these two crops on the same land and make larger crops. It is considered worth $20 to $25 per acre. It increases productivity and improves mechanical condition of the soil.

Crimson Clover also makes an excellent winter and spring grazing crop, the best of any green feed and a good hay crop.

PERMITS REMINDS FORMER

SERVICE MEN OF OBLIGATIONS.

Washington, July 4.—Gen. John J. Pershing, former commander-in-chief of the American Expeditionary forces, in an Independence Day message today to members of the American Legion and other former service men said:

"The anniversary of our national independence brings to our minds and hearts the obligations that rest upon us as a people. The sublime conception of our forefathers created upon this continent a new nation founded upon human liberty, which they left for us to perpetuate and strengthen. The spirit of consecration that enabled them to overcome in this great cause should be invoked that we in turn may faithfully posterity the sacred principles for which they fought.

"The men of this nation whose blood and sacrifice have proved their devotion, we owe the deepest debt of gratitude, and it is to them that we look for constant inspiration that efforts to maintain forever a country where all men shall be free and equal may be supported by the same patriotism that gave them the victory in the great war."
